

Labor Day to Election Day

Capitol Direct is a direct marketing company located in Eagan offering creative design, printing, data, and mail processing services for many commercial businesses. We also have a healthy niche market in political campaign mail. Our clients range from local and state candidates to political action committees. As such, September and October are our busiest months of the year.

We are looking to temporarily hire an additional 20 people during these two months to help process mail through addressing machines including sorting, bundling and bagging, etc. It is in a warehouse setting with pallets of printed materials and mail bins being moved about. You would be on your feet and on the move as the job is somewhat physically demanding. The pay is $9 per hour.

The volume of work increases throughout the campaign season and we will be ramping up with more and more people each week starting after Labor Day and running up to Election day, November 2nd. We are starting with daytime shifts from 8-4pm and adding evening shifts from about 3-9pm starting in early Oct. By late October we may even be adding night shifts and some weekends as well. The shifts and days can be somewhat flexible full-time or part-time, but we would like each worker to commit to at least 20 hours (3 days) per week min. It's great for college students, those between jobs, etc.
